Let's Take a Road Trip to Caring for Children Basics Down the Lane to 2018 Health Monitoring Expectations

Health and Environmental Safety has been designed to ensure health and safety for our children reach their highest level of quality through the newly designed framework established through the Caring for Children Basic strategies. Research has shown children can reach their highest level of success when health, nutrition and safety related concerns are mastered at their highest level of quality.

This training will assist participants in understanding what the new Performance Standards requirements are and what will happen during the 2018 onsite monitoring measures will look like and the changes that are affecting best practices in the areas of Health, Nutrition and Safety.

Who Should Attend

Quality Control Managers, Health and Nutrition Coordinators, Family

Advocates, New Head Start and Early Head Start Directors and New Administrators.
